

PUBLIC HEALTH AND HEALTHCARE, HEALTH ECONOMICS
for 4th year international students

Lecture

1. The most important non-infectious and infectious diseases as a copper-social problem.
2. Public Health Organization.
3. Maternal and child health care system.
4. The quality of medical care. Standardization in medicine and healthcare.
5. Social and health insurance.
6. Medical Examination.
7. Fundamentals of health management and planning.
8. Fundamentals of economics and health financing.
9. Health care in foreign countries. World Health Organization.

For practical studies

1. The current state of public health. Actual problems of the organization of public health protection. Maternal and child health care system.
2. The quality of medical care. Departmental and non-departmental examination of the quality of medical care.
3. Medical Examination. Examination of temporary disability. Medical and Social Expertise.
4. Social and health insurance. The program of state guarantees for the provision of free medical care to citizens of the Russian Federation.
5. Fundamentals of management and planning in healthcare. Licensing and accreditation in healthcare.
6. Health economics, definition, tasks. Types of healthcare efficiency (medical, social, economic), their indicators.
7. Health Financing. Sources of financing for health. Payment of medical workers. Entrepreneurship in healthcare.
8. Types of health systems in countries of the world. World Health Organization. Performance of control work № 2 «Healthcare».

Head of Department public health and the history of medicine
MD, professor

A.N. Redko